Rhonda Eleish
& Edie van Breems
*Reflections on Swedish
Interiors*

Simple, graceful forms, whitewashed and painted finishes, and an ethereal quality of light are the hallmarks of Swedish-inspired spaces, whether they are in an urban loft or country cabin. Authors Eleish and Van Breems reflect on the timeless and enduring elements of Swedish style. (Gibbs Smith, $50) —Amy Elbert

Steven Stolman
Scalamandré Haute Décor

Legendary textile design house Scalamandré is celebrating 84 years of creating fabrics and trims for some of the world's most prestigious homes, from the White House to San Simeon. Company president Stolman takes a playful romp through the business's history, with photos, quips, and quotes from notable names in the design world. (Gibbs Smith, $75) —A.E.

Brian J. McCarthy
Luminous Interiors

Working by the motto that no two homes are alike, designer Brian J. McCarthy brings together a rich mélange of styles, textures, and colors, as well as a passion for art and architecture to create rooms as distinctive as their owners. In this book, McCarthy takes us to nine homes, including his own, giving helpful insights into his design processes. (Abrams, $60) —A.E.

Jennifer Boles
*In With The Old: Classic
Décor from A to Z*

Blogger extraordinaire Jennifer Boles (check out peakofchic.com) delves into the origins and endearing traits of classic home furnishings from andirons to portieres (draperies for doorways) to murals to zebra prints. For each of the 100 featured items, Boles has hints for incorporating it into your home today. (Potter Style, $35) —A.E.
